All,

In follow-up to the teleconference call hosted by Santa Clara County Board President Cortese this afternoon, I wanted to pass along a few pieces of information that were mentioned during the call.

First, with respect to listening to an audio of the argument, I'm very sorry to report that, subsequent to the call, we were informed by the court that audio capabilities are not going to be made publicly available. I'll be attending the hearing and in partnership with our County Counsel hope to have a summary of the hearing that we can share with this group as soon as possible. We also expect many media reports of the hearing and we will do a media round up and forward to folks as well.

Second, you can access all of the County of Santa Clara's filings in this litigation using this link. Our website does not include the federal government's opposition to the County's motion for preliminary injunction, so I have attached that brief to this email.

Third, please feel free to reach out to Julia Spiegel in our Office of County Counsel if you are interested in participating as an amicus on appeal or have any questions about the litigation. Julia may be reached via email at julia.spiegel@cco.sccgov.org or via phone at 408-299-5949.

Lastly, we encourage you and your local offices to engage with your local media to amplify our collective voices. I received a few calls asking about the draft press release template we provided. It can be used prior to the court hearing where your respective office can set it up as press availability or as a press statement. If your office leverages social media, we are officially using the #constitutionalcounties and #constitutionalcities hashtags.

On behalf of Board President Cortese, thank you for participating in today's teleconference call. We will keep you and your respective offices abreast on any developments as they come in.

Sincerely,

Mario B. Lopez
